Hello April!

Hello KSLs and KSMs, and happy April! As I'm sure you are aware, April is the Month of the Military Child – a time to recognize the strength, resilience, and sacrifice of our military-connected children and families. Throughout this month, there will be opportunities to connect, support, and celebrate our community. Attached to this newsletter are just some of those events. As unit representatives, grab a spouse or two and join in the fun!

Best Practices

I really love hearing about the many connections you are having with spouses. I see there are coffee walks, cook outs, volunteering, etc. I just want to highlight that these are the kinds of things that spouses need most. So if your unit has not quite found the right way to connect, take it from your fellow KSLs – don't overthink it! It could be as simple as a park date, a coffee walk, putting some burgers on the grill and inviting families out that helps make a spouse feel connected without pressure. Keep it up!

Monthly Reporting

You all really hit the ground running at the start of the year with sharing your monthly connections with spouses. Please keep it up! Unfortunately, I have not received any numbers from anyone for March. Kindly requesting that you send over your numbers. I just need to know, how many connections you've made, and how many on or off base referrals you've made, if any.
